I'm Jilan Hall, the brains behind The Sassy Biscuit Co. My mission is to recover and revitalize the communities we're in!

What started as a silly idea of making biscuit waffles for my kids suddenly blossomed into a unique food venture that I invite you to come and check out.

I am passionate about family, friends, and great food!

After graduating from culinary art school, my family and I traveled across the country from the east to the west coast, giving them the opportunity to sample and savor the best cuisine in regional restaurants. Over the years I've found good food has a good experience behind it.
